No General Meeting In December

Lighting Contest Judging

Friday, December 14

President's Column

-Michael Majchrowicz

Happy holidays, everyone! We had a fantastic Holiday Parade, and the Lakewood Village Holiday Lighting Contest is coming up soon! I thank all the volunteers who helped the parade run smoothly. Special thanks go to Ursula Syrova, LVNA vice president, who coordinated the whole event and did a masterful job.

I have already seen many stunning lighting displays in the village, and I know there will be a lot of great competition this year. Our "Celebrity Judge" will be Captain Chris Carrion, who will help with the difficult decisions about who will be the 2007 winners of the coveted Santa statuettes in the Lakewood Village Holiday Lighting Contest. Judging will be December 14.

Because of the holidays we will not have a general LVNA meeting this month, but if you have any questions, suggestions, or special needs to be addressed at future meetings, please contact me (see page 6).

Some great opportunities are opening up, and they are vital for keeping the LVNA going. Faith Rogers, who has served for several years as Villager editor and advertising coordinator, as well as LVNA treasurer, is stepping down at the end of this month. If you are a young person looking for a way to build your resume, or are working or retired and have some free time, this is a perfect opportunity to gain some great experience and help your neighborhood. See the box on page 2 for an idea of what each position requires. Call Faith at 738-3215 for more information. The Villager earns money for LVNA activities. It must have an editor.

I hope everyone has had a wonderful year, and I sincerely thank you all for your participation in continuing to strengthen the community in our neighborhood.

Parade Kicks Off 2007 Holiday Season

-Ursula Syrova

A wonderful variety of groups made the Lakewood Village Holiday Parade and party great fun again this year. The parade set out from Lakewood School at 11 a.m. on December 1 and, with the help of Department of Public Safety officers, crossed Lawrence Expressway and ended at Fairwood Park. Spectators along the route were showered with candy from the passing participants and had a chance to donate new toys for Sunnyvale Community Services. Many returning groups helped us celebrate, as well as some new faces.

Energy Saving Workshop Coming to Lakewood Village

Beginning January 9, 2008 at the Lakewood Park building at 7 p.m. there will be a workshop for the neighborhood designed to help us all take action in our homes and lives to save energy and money. We may know a lot about what would be good to do, but together we can actually do it!

If you are interested, please contact Ursula Syrova at 408-738-3092 or vicepresident1@lvna.net.

It's Been Interesting …. This is the last issue of the Villager that I will edit. I've met some great people and gained some skills, and now it's time for someone else to have this opportunity. The Villager is still the main way to get Lakewood Village information out, and the ad revenue helps to pay for the annual picnic, the Holiday Parade, and the Holiday Lighting Contest statuettes. It's your turn. The Villager can't be published unless there's an editor. --Faith Rogers

Skip and Annie Gottschalk, Dennis Majchrowicz, Art Daugherty, and Dennis and Lenora O'Neil helped at the after-parade party, serving hundreds of cups of cocoa and cider and handing out cookies. The Fremont High School and Columbia Middle School choirs provided spirited holiday songs. Jeanine Stanek, a Sunnyvale Cool Cities member, handed out compact fluorescent light bulbs to those who were lucky enough to find her table.

Lakewood Pony Baseball Gears Up for Another Great Year

Hello and Happy Holidays from everyone at Lakewood Pony Baseball. As the holidays approach, we like to focus on family, friends, and good deeds. Players from Lakewood Pony Baseball rode again this year in the Holiday Parade (see photo above), always fun for the participants and their families.

Lakewood Pony Baseball is gearing up for its annual registration drive. Each Saturday in January from 10 a.m. to noon, the LPB Board of Directors gathers at the Lakewood Activities Center and collects registrations for the upcoming season. Registration forms are currently available online at http://www.lakewoodponybaseball.com.

This year, we'll raise funds for the kids of LPB in a new and exciting way. During the week before Christmas, December 17–24, Lakewood Pony Baseball will have a booth at the Borders Book Store at the intersection of El Camino Real and Mathilda Avenue. Volunteers will help wrap presents purchased by shoppers at Borders Books in exchange for a small donation. We are looking for volunteers to help in this drive. Time slots are still available. For information, call Amanda Wigylus at (408) 991-3478 or e-mail Sammie Davis at sammi31195@yahoo.com. Please come and help out any way you can. Buy a book and have it wrapped by the hard-working volunteers. Show them how much you appreciate the time they have donated to a good cause.

Thank you, and have a wonderful holiday!

December in Your Yard and Garden

☼Be sure to get in the last of the spring-blooming bulbs this month. Remember that wet soil is difficult to dig properly. Be careful not to plant the bulbs too deep.

☼Water plants as needed.

☼Watch out for frost.

☼Direct water from downspouts to avoid damage to the garden.

☼Save wood ashes from the fireplace as a source of potash for the compost pile.

☼Request seed and nursery catalogs from mail-order companies.

☼Set out large-sized transplants of winter-flowering plants into the bedding plot, using such plants as calendula, Iceland poppy, primrose, and stock.

☼Apply dormant spray to deciduous flowering plants and fruit trees.

☼Prune pines, magnolias, junipers, and red-berried plants for holiday greens.

☼Cut back chrysanthemums as they finish blooming.

☼Hold off fertilizing most plants in preparation for winter.

☼Stabilize plants that might be harmed by wind.

☼Harvest winter vegetables as they ripen.

These tips are from the book Northern California Gardening: A Month-by-Month Guide, by Katherine Grace Endicott, published by Chronicle Books, San Francisco, copyright 1996, and are used with the publisher's permission.
