December 5th was a magic day in Lakewood Village. The LVNA Board and volunteers pulled off a minor miracle when once again the annual Lakewood Village Holiday Parade marched down our streets. The decision to have the parade was made only three weeks prior to the event!

Special thanks go to the people who helped us pay the costs of the event. The City of Sunnyvale requires a permit to have the parade. $100 is required to submit the permit for evaluation, $100 to rent mandatory traffic cones, $560 dollars to pay the overtime costs of two public safety officers needed to close Lawrence Expressway, $110 for event insurance, $150 for a mandatory "porta potty" and another $25 for a permit to have amplified music and sound, totaling $1,000 before refreshments.

Luckily, we found we had friends who helped. Mayor Anthony Spitaleri, Vice Mayor Chris Moylen, Council Members Dean Chu, Howe and Hamilton, Ron Swegeles, and Council Member Elect Jim Griffith each contributed out of his own pocket to help finance the parade.

One more important contribution was made. We were caught by surprise by the "porta potty" requirement. Thankfully, the owner of Nor-Cal Portable Services Company of San Jose agreed to donate the portable restroom we needed! He dropped it off and picked it up, all free of charge. Many, many thanks to owner Dan Leal and the Nor-Cal Portable Service Company for helping us when we really needed it.

And thanks to you all for attending the event. By all accounts the parade crowd was the biggest we've had in a long time. Isn't it great to live in a neighborhood where things like this can happen?

January meeting: The 49ers Stadium

Greetings! Mark your calendars for a very important LVNA meeting (perhaps the most important one in the past 10 years). On January 13th, representatives of the San Francisco 49ers will come to the Lakewood Park building to answer questions about the stadium they propose to build near Great America. Patrick Kolstad, former member of the Santa Clara City Council and strong supporter of the stadium project, will bring experts from the 49ers organization to talk about parking issues, the ballot initiative that is being worked on, and the question of how the $937 million construction cost will be financed.

I attended the Santa Clara City Council meeting on December 8th where the Environmental Impact Report for the stadium project was evaluated. Rather than getting answers about the project , the entire

Annual Lighting Contest

The annual Lakewood Village Holiday Lighting Contest took place on the evening of December 20th, and the neighborhood never looked better! Unfortunately our "celebrity judge" had the flu bug and the judging was performed by me and by my wife Phyllis. We did the best we could given the circumstances. If anyone feels that we were mistaken in our conclusions, please accept our apologies.

For the purposes of the contest, the neighborhood is divided into four quarters with the east/west boundary being Lawrence Expressway and the north/south boundary being Lakehaven/Sandia. One winner is selected from each quarter, and an overall grand prize winner is also selected. The competition was especially spirited this year, and we felt we had to make several "honorable mentions" in order to do justice to the efforts that had been made. Also, we felt it was only fair to disqualify the house at 666 Lakefair, because if we didn't no one else would have a chance at the grand prize. The family that lives there put their heart and soul into the decorations and would win every time hands down. They have a special place in the history of this contest, anyway, so Phyllis and I chose to let others have a chance to win.

course of the meeting left nothing but questions. Chief among them was how in the world people attending games would actually be able to get to the facility. I was utterly astonished to find out that the 14 acre stadium is going to be built on a 17 acre site. The site is so small that of the 20,000 cars expected to carry the 68,000 ticket holders there, only 2,500 of the cars would be able to park in the stadium's parking lot. Almost 90% of the people coming to the game will have to park someplace else! The "someplace else" is a huge question mark hanging over both the project and over Lakewood Village.

The 49ers have a plan to sign contracts with businesses in the area to let fans use their parking lots on game days. They figure that businesses would be willing to do so in exchange for the ability to collect hefty parking fees. The businesses would run shuttle buses from their lots to the stadium and split the proceeds with the 49ers. This kind of arrangement is in place in other NFL cities, though nowhere has it been attempted on this scale.

In addition to these parking lots, the 49ers expect many fans to rely on "public transportation" to get to the games. This sounds nice, but it doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out what this may mean for Lakewood Village. We have the #55 VTA bus line running through our neighborhood, and the northern terminus of its route is the Light Rail station near the stadium site. I'm sure some fans will figure out they can avoid paying hefty parking fees and shuttle bus fares by parking for free in our neighborhood and paying a VTA based fare to get to the game. The problem could be huge. Even if just one extra car parked in front of every one of our 1600 homes, it would only accommodate about 8% of the total parking demand, and that number of cars would literally choke our streets.

There are some people who say the entire stadium project is just a bluff. They say it is just a way for the 49ers to put pressure on San Francisco to put together a real stadium proposal that is favorable to the team. The parking plan for the Santa Clara stadium seems so hopelessly unrealistic that it tends to support the idea of a "bluff". Some say that the 49ers don't care about parking because they know the stadium will never be built. Some say we in Lakewood Village need not worry for the same reason.

There are lots of questions. Come to the LVNA meeting on January 13 and get some answers! I'll see you there!
