March Meeting: Elections!

Hello neighbors. The LVNA year has come and gone, and it is time to elect a new set of officers to lead the association through 2011. The 2010 board did a fine job and made a number of changes that have left the LVNA much stronger and healthier than it was in the year prior. Their work is finished, though, and it is time for a new set of people to take over.

Please come to the Lakewood Park Building on the evening of Wednesday, March 9th at 7:00pm, and take part in the elections that will give us a new governing board for the coming year!

The LVNA board has five elected officers, and together they make decisions about what the association goals are and how they are to be achieved. There is a President, a 1st Vice President, a 2nd Vice President, a Secretary, and a Treasurer. I've been both the President and the acting Secretary for the past year. Our 1st Vice President has been Joan Simon, our 2nd Vice President has been Skip Gottschalk, and our Treasurer has been Beverly Woidyla.

As you know, I've been asking for people to step forward to serve on the board for the coming year. Both Joan and Skip have let me know that they will run for their respective positions again and will continue to serve as 1st and 2nd Vice President if they are elected. One of our neighbors has approached me to let me

Greetings neighbors. There is an important group of people to whom we all owe a debt of gratitude. They are an important part of the reason the LVNA is as strong and successful as it is. Last month we gave our thanks to the volunteers who make our various events possible. This month I would like to thank the people who make the printing and distribution of the newsletter you are reading possible.

Every month we print over 1,700 copies of The Villager, and even though we now have our own printing equipment it still takes money to buy the toner and paper we need. Someone has to pay the bill, and luckily the LVNA has friends who do. They are the advertisers who buy space in our newsletter.

A Letter From Your Editor

Today I want to speak to you about our neighborhoods most precious responsibility, our children. When I say our children, I don't mean only your sons, daughters, nieces, nephews, or grandchildren. I mean all the children in the neighborhood! In particular their education!

As many of you know I have another job then the editor of The Villager newsletter. I also serve on the Sunnyvale School District Board. I want to talk to you about the proposed parcel tax to support our elementary schools and the education of our children.

Thanks to the LVNA Advertisers!

This past month I had the occasion to pay visits to most of the people who advertise in The Villager. For a variety of reasons, the sending out of invoices got delayed and the LVNA bank account was getting low. I decided to contact each advertiser to try to get the invoicing and payment processing back on track. What happened as a result was amazing.

ADVERTISING AS A PUBLIC SERVICE

One thing I found out quickly is that many of our long-time advertisers don't expect to get any significant business out of the advertisements, if any. They advertise with us to support the LVNA and the neighborhood.

Roy Ramsey of ABC Towing said it best when he told me "I don't really have the time to take part in Dumpster Day or the parade. I can't really make it to the meetings. There is not much I can do, but I support the neighborhood, so I advertise because I know it will help. It is my way of doing my part for Lakewood Village." Roy told me this as he was writing out a check that paid for his business card sized ad for a full year in advance! The money he gave us was enough to pay for an issue of the newsletter all by himself. We're all lucky to have neighbors like him.

Another person who advertises with us regardless of the benefit she gets is Linda Garcia of RV Jones Realtors. Linda has a special kind of "family" relationship with Lakewood Village. Her father was a great and wonderful person named Walt Reese. I knew Walt through the Sunnyvale Amateur Radio Emergency Service, which he led for many years before his death in the late1990's. One day Walt asked Phyllis and I what our new address was, and when we told him he proceeded to describe our house to us in great detail. When we asked him why he knew so much about our house, he replied "because I sold it to its original owners!"

Walt was one of the real estate agents who worked in Lakewood Village when it was built in the 1950s. His daughter Linda lives in another part of Sunnyvale but still feels ties with us because of her late father's love of the neighborhood. Linda recently changed her ad from black and white to color and also paid for it for a full year in advance. She can't support our neighborhood with her time, but she can with her money. Thank you Linda!

COMMUNITY ORIENTED BUSINESSES

A few of the other advertisers are actually looking for some new customers from the ads, but they are also looking for ways to get "linked in" to the neighborhood. One of these is the Puro Peru Restaurant whose ad is running in The Villager this month for the very first time.

Puro Peru is a new Peruvian restaurant in the northeast corner of the Lakewood Shopping Center. They are enjoying good business growth and when Phyllis and I tried them on a Saturday night the restaurant was packed. Peruvian cuisine is very interesting – it is a combination of Latin and Asian flavors and emphasizes seafood. I had a dish that was sliced skirt steak, stir fried with chilies and french fried potatoes and seasoned with Soy Sauce. It was very good! Phyllis and I shared an appetizer made with shrimp and artichoke hearts. Delicious!

Why is Puro Peru advertizing with us? They want to make contact with the neighborhood and be seen as a "neighborhood resource". They want to be good neighbors, and they hope that they can build a relationship with Lakewood Village. We're in their "backyard", and they want to cater to the dining needs of their neighbors.

By the way, the owner of Puro Peru has asked if he can bring some "finger food" to the next LVNA meeting. If he does, I'm sure it won't last long. The thing that will last longer is the friendships he will build between his business and our community. (Continued on page 5)

You should be receiving in the mail soon a ballot asking you to vote on Measure B, a $59.00 parcel tax for the Sunnyvale School District. It will be the smallest parcel tax in Santa Clara County. This is less than $5.00 a month, but when it is combined, it will raise roughly $1 Million dollars a year that can't be cut by the state.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, once said "The school is the last expenditure upon which America should be willing to economize." Yet, for the school year starting in September, our school district is looking at having our budget reduced by $1,507,500. This is in addition to the over one million dollars that has been cut for the last three years! The state budget crisis has no end in sight and we cannot rely on the state budget for our local education funds.

I have been asked "Why doesn't the school district just spend less?" The answer is: we are, and we have been finding ways to reduce our spending for the last several years. We have decreased operating costs, consolidated jobs, and have been spending from our district reserve fund. However, reserves only last for so long and without additional funds, the district will be forced to reduce or eliminate classroom programs and services Including science, libraries and technology.

Sunnyvale School District has been careful in how it spends its budget. We are one of the few districts that have been able to offer Summer School. While many school

Across the state are increasing classroom size to 30 students in grades K through 3rd. We are trying to maintain an average of 23. Our district is trying to keep class size as small as possible. The student population in our school sites have steadily increased, while our budget is going down. We are having to make do with less and less money per student.

"The school is the last expenditure upon which America should be willing to economize."

Franklin D. Roosevelt

The money raised from Measure B will be spent in our local classrooms, not on district administration. It provides for strict accountability by having an independent Citizens Oversight Committee to monitor how the money will be spent. Their mission will be to insure that all funds are spent as planned for the benefit of our local students. We have had Citizens Oversight Committees for our bond measures and they have been very successful. I was on the committee for two years that monitored the first bond measure. The ballot measure also has an exemption available to those who are at least 65 years old and own and reside in their home.

When you see the envelope from the Voter Registration of Santa Clara County, please vote yes on Measure B and mail in your ballot. Help our district to continue to support and instruct our children in the skills they need to succeed with reading and math.

Vote Yes on Measure B.◆

know that she will serve as Secretary if no one else steps forward. Bev Woidyla cannot run for Treasurer again because of term limits, but there is also someone who has said they will take her place if no one else volunteers to do so. That means that there are candidates ready and willing to fill all of the board positions except for the most important one, the Presidency. I've been President for the past 15 months, but I will be running for a seat on the Sunnyvale City Council and cannot possibly do that and act as LVNA President at the same time. Someone else needs to take up the burden of responsibility

I ask you to consider serving. As I said last month, there is only one quality necessary to be a great LVNA President. You have to care. You have to care enough to make sure things get done, even if it means doing them yourself. Related experience is helpful, but not necessary.

By the way, there are a number of former LVNA Presidents in the neighborhood ready to provide advice and help just for the asking. If you take on the burden of responsibility, you won't be doing it alone. You will have the collective experience and traditions of the oldest neighborhood organization in Sunnyvale to back you up. It won't be easy, but it will be very rewarding.

Just before the voting begins on March 9th, I'll ask for volunteers to be LVNA President for 2011. Please consider raising your hand. Please think of what it will mean if no one raises their hand.

Let's hope we have a little more "Lakewood Magic", and that someone steps up to the challenge.

I'll see you there!

PS: In addition to the elections, we'll have a special guest at the March Meeting. Sunnyvale Mayor Melinda Hamilton will stop by to give the LVNA an award and answer questions about the issues of the day. Her comments are always interesting. You won't want to miss them! ◆

GIFTS FROM OTHER PARTS OF TOWN

Another pair of "community oriented businesses" are two new advertisers, "Isabella Boutique" and "Pan African City Alive". Both of these businesses are located in Downtown Sunnyvale and are fairly far away from Lakewood Village. Never the less both of them want to build ties with our community and are reaching out to us.

Isabella Boutique is a small shop located in the 100 block of South Murphy Avenue, otherwise known as the historic Downtown of Sunnyvale. It is run by a wonderful lady named Rosimarie Osorio. Rosimarie actually lived in Lakewood Village for many years and has missed it ever since she moved away. Her store is full of interesting clothing, accessories and gifts of all kinds. When we had our picnic last September, Rosimarie donated several of the door prizes we gave away. She sees our community as part of her own "neighborhood" and is trying to reach out to us. She placed her first advertisement with us this month.

Pan African City Alive is another fascinating store and is located at the corner of South Sunnyvale Avenue and Evelyn Avenue is downtown Sunnyvale. Many people have heard the store even if they haven't seen it – every Saturday morning Pan African sponsors an outdoor concert of African music that Phyllis and I have enjoyed several times. Stepping inside the store is like stepping into an "adventurer's club" full of artifacts from the faraway "Dark Continent". I love African carvings and the store has them in abundance. They also have books, clothing, jewelry and even cosmetics from African sources, often produced by villagers in traditional ways.

More interesting than the store, though, is the lady who runs it. She has a strong sense of community and is attracted by the sense of the "together" spirit of Lakewood Village. She donated several containers of authentic Shea butter as door prizes for our picnic and placed her first ad in The Villager three months ago. She just renewed her color ad with us for the next three months. She wants to build a cultural bridge and hopes that the Lakewood Village community might prove to be one of the bridge's anchors.

HELPING THOSE WHO HELP US

It is no secret that times are tough for businesses here in Silicon Valley. They are especially tough for small family businesses, such as those that advertise in The Villager.

By the way, you may have noticed that The Villager does not contain advertisements from "big businesses". There are no "Big Mac" coupons from McDonald's in our newsletter, there are no "new car" ads from Toyota or General Motors. There aren't even any ads for franchise operations like "Roto Router" or "The Rug Doctor". Why is that? Part of the reason is that The Villager is meant to be a way for neighbors to get news about each other, and those "neighbors" can be businesses as well as individuals. Small stores like Isabella's and Pan African City Alive can support our Lakewood community in ways that Macy's or Burger King can never do. We want and need to reach out to them as much as they want to reach out to us.

For every advertiser who runs an ad in The Villager, we need to find a way to say "Thanks!". We need to do this especially in these hard times when all small businesses are struggling. Our advertisers are struggling, yet they still find ways to support us. We need to support them as well

If I ever need my car towed, there is no question to who I will turn to. Roy Ramsey from ABC Towing paid for a full year of newsletter advertising in advance, just to support Lakewood Village. He has got my towing business for as long as I live here and as long as he stays in business. (Cont. on page 7)

Lyn Bahn from the "Instyle salon" in the Lakewood Shopping Center has advertised in The Villager for many years. She is the one I go to for my haircuts, and I'll keep going there until she goes out of business.

Walter Fernandez, owner of Lakewood Roofing has just renewed his advertisement for 3 months. Walter is the one who re-did our roof a few years ago. He charged a reasonable price, did the work on time, and we've never had a leak since. We'll turn to him if we ever need any more roof work, and he'll be our roofer until he retires or goes out of business.

By the way, several of our advertisers turn their ads into "discount coupons" by offering "10% off with this ad" and things like that. It is very important for Lakewood Village residents to use those coupons! When someone brings a coupon like that into a store, it is proof that someone is reading and noticing the advertisement in our newsletter. In the past few months we've had some advertisers drop their ads after they offered discount coupons because no one tried to redeem them.

BUILDING A NEIGHBORHOOD.

It takes more than houses to make a neighborhood. It takes neighbors. It also takes more than families to make a community. It takes businesses as well. Businesses and their customers need to support each other in order to meet the challenges of the times we live in.

The LVNA is blessed with a small number of loyal businesses who support us and give us the money we need to print our newsletter. We need to support them as well. I want to thank them all! It is the least we can do.

The sincerest thanks we can give them is to buy their products and their services. They are helping us. We should help them in return. Helping them grow stronger will help our community grow stronger. It only makes sense to do so.

FRIENDS IN NEED

What was the result of my contacting all of the advertisers when Thanks to the generosity of Roy Ramsey, Rosimarie Osorio, Linda Garcia, and all of the others, the LVNA collected over $1,900 in advertising purchases in just two weeks. Our cash flow problems have been solved for months to come.

Our advertisers continue to support us when it really counts. Let's give them our business in return.

Thanks on behalf of all of Lakewood Village.◆

Disposal of Pharmaceuticals

In January, we had a Public Safety officer visit our meeting. He came to inform us about a program called MedDrop. For those of you who were not able to attend January's meeting, here is the information.
MedDrop is a pharmaceutical disposal program designed to encourage environmentally-safe disposal of unneeded, expired and unused prescription and over-the-counter medicines.

The Problem

Traditionally, many people simply flush old, unwanted medicines down a toilet. Unfortunately, some of these pharmaceuticals have found their way into the environment because they have not been removed during the waste treatment process. These pharmaceuticals can have a lasting negative effect on plant and animal life.

The Solution

The city of Sunnyvale has created the MedDrop program, a program that encourages resident to drop off their unwanted medicines at any Sunnyvale fire station for environmentally-safe Disposal.

What Kind Of Medicine Is Accepted?

MedDrop will accept all a resident's prescription and over-the-counter medicines. Illegal narcotics are not accepted, and MedDrop cannot accept "sharps." Sharps are needles and lancets. However, they can be dropped off at the Sunnyvale Smart Station at 301 Carl Road, off Caribbean Drive, just look for the "red" dumpster or visit www.earth911.com to find a nearby site.

How Do I Us MedDrop?

Visit any of the six Sunnyvale fire stations and give your medicines to an officer on duty. Please do not simply leave the medicines at an unattended station: medicines must be given to an officer.

What Happens Then?

The receiving officer will log in your medicines and place them into secure storage. The medicines will them be turned over to a licensed waste disposal firm which will destroy the medicines in an environmentally-safe manner.

What If I Have Move Questions?

Call the Sunnyvale department of Public Safety desk officer at (408) 730-7110. TDD (408) 730-7501

Where Are The Fire Stations?

Station 1 - 171 N Mathilda Ave.
Station 2 – 795 E Arques Ave
Station 3 – 910 Ticonderoga
Station 4 – 966 S Wolfe Road
Station 5 – 1120 Lockheed Way
