April meeting: Thanks!

Greetings neighbors. The LVNA is off to a good start in 2015, with a full board of directors and a little extra money in the bank.

Last month's LVNA elections returned Pat Muniz as 2nd Vice President, Dess Tamaz as our Treasurer and Phyllis Fowler as LVNA Secretary. Also elected was John Thornton, a new member of the board who is taking on the role of 1st Vice President. Last but not least, I was elected LVNA President for another year.

Before we get started on the 2015 agenda, there is one more thing to do for the 2014 LVNA program – THANK everyone who took part! 2014 was a banner year for the association, with lots of new initiatives and activities. There were many volunteers who worked hard (either out in the open or behind the scenes) to make the year a successful one. We need to get together, have a party and say thanks for a job well done!

Please come to the Lakewood Park building on Wednesday, April 8th at 7:00pm to help celebrate the success of our 2014 LVNA year. We will supply free pizza and drinks (while the supplies last) and will hand out tokens of appreciation to the volunteers. We'll have a special guest to help us with the festivities, namely Richard (Dick) Santos*, our district's elected representative to the Santa Clara Valley Water District Board of Supervisors.*

It should be a lot of fun! I'll see you there. ◆

District Calls For 30% Conservation, Lawn Watering 2 Days A Week

Facing worsening drought conditions and water supply projections, the Santa Clara Valley Water District Board of Directors called for a water use reduction target of 30 percent and a restriction on irrigating outdoor landscapes and lawns with potable water to two days per week.

The call came at the board's regular meeting on Tuesday, March 24th, and is a response to the continued severity of the drought. The board received an update on water supply conditions which are heavily reliant upon water supplies imported from outside the county. (Continued on page 2)

Local reservoirs are about half full. Groundwater levels are 30 to 40 feet lower than average, reflecting the greater use of groundwater in 2014 and starting the year at a greater deficit in groundwater supplies than last year. The northern California Sierra snowpack, which is a key factor in the availability of imported water supplies, is only around 10 percent of normal.

The district offers assistance to those looking to make more changes to save water, through a variety of rebates for homes and businesses. Over the past year, the water district has taken aggressive actions and invested approximately $25 million to respond to the drought, including increasing water conservation rebates, expanding drought awareness outreach, hiring water waste inspectors, improving recharge ponds and other facilities to boost performance, and improving water use efficiency at its own facilities. Tuesday night, the board also voted to extend increased water conservation rebates another six months, until the end of 2015. ◆

Welcome to the Neighborhood!

There is a new restaurant in town called High Tech Burrito, and they have selected Sunnyvale Community Services to be their designated local charity.

To celebrate their grand opening and launch this partnership, High Tech Burrito is holding a week-long celebration during April 6th - 10th during which they will donate 10% of their proceeds to SCS.

So, grab your appetite, head on over to 1191 E. Arques Ave. (near Lawrence Expressway), and get yourself a delicious burrito! ◆

It Can Happen to Anyone…

By Fred Fowler

Hello neighbors. Phyllis and I learned a hard lesson the other day. After 20 years of peaceful and safe living in beautiful Lakewood Village our house was broken into and some items were stolen. We don't know who targeted us for the robbery, or why. We came home from work on a Friday night, fed our two dogs, relaxed a bit and then went out for some pizza. We were only gone for about 90 minutes, but when we came back we found we had been robbed.

The Sunnyvale DPS crime scene investigator came out shortly after we called 911. We found out that someone had opened our side gate to the backyard and had climbed in our kitchen window. They went to my home office and stole 3 laptop computers from it. They went into Phyllis's den and stole her laptop computer as well. They went into the bedroom and rifled through several dresser drawers and took various pieces of jewelry. They found and took Phyllis's iPod and my coin collection of the 50 state quarters. After a few minutes they fled through the sliding glass door to the backyard and probably out the same gate they came in.

The crime scene investigator told us that someone had probably been watching our house and had seen us leave. After a few minutes they took a chance and tried the side gate. After getting through it they were able to close it and not be seen from the street. They found an unlocked window, which let them in. They took advantage of these opportunities to carry out the burglary. They were probably in and out of our house in under 5 minutes.

The CSI officer also told us the culprits were probably kids. The burglars weren't very careful about what they did and left lots of good fingerprints behind. They also stole laptops that were rather old but nevertheless had traceable serial numbers. Even worse, they stole the old laptops but did not take the chargers used to charge their batteries. Those chargers will be hard to find in any store, so if anyone tries to use the laptops the batteries will go dead before they can be of much use.

So, what lessons have Phyllis and I learned?

1) Lock the side gate.

The crime against us was a crime of opportunity. If we had locked the side gate, no one would have tried to struggle with it in full view of the street, and the burglars would have looked for an easier opportunity elsewhere.

2) Lock all doors and windows, no matter how Inaccessible they seem

Our doors were locked, but the kitchen window gave the burglars access. It is about 5 feet off the ground, is not very big, and it sits over the double kitchen sink on the inside. We did not suspect that someone might try to get in through it, because it would take a very limber and acrobatic person to do so. We're now making sure that all points of entry are locked and are under surveillance.

One more thing, the CSI officer told us it was likely that the kids who broke into our home were "local" kids. In fact, it is possible that the burglars are reading this newsletter right now.

3) Make backups of your computers. (Consider something like Carbonite.)

If you did this and you are reading this now, I would like to tell you what trouble you have caused. The laptop you stole from me cost me about $250 a few years ago, but it had the notes and initial chapters of a book I'm writing on it. Now that the laptop is gone, I will have to spend many weeks re-writing the chapters that were lost.

The laptop you stole from Phyllis was the one she used to create the LVNA newsletter, The Villager. It had all of the logos, graphics and pictures used to format the pages and position the advertisements. You've caused her a great deal of extra work and time to reassemble those things in order to publish the newsletter you are reading now. When the laptop was new it cost less than $400 and that was a couple of years ago. There were also a lot of photographs that were not all on disks. Some of those were of dear friends that are not longer with us.

A Letter From Lakewood's Libraran

By Tammy Michels

Dear Parents,

Even if you don't have a child in school, please take a moment to read this information. As a Library Specialist at Lakewood Elementary, I find that many children treat books like "toys." Books are special and should be treated with care. I talk to my students about this topic regularly but for some reason I have A LOT of damaged books. I believe that the earlier a child is taught the more he/she will appreciate books and truly "care" for them. I hope the following "how to take care of books" information is helpful to you.

How to Take Care of Books

- ◊ Keep books away from pets, small children, food and drinks
- ◊ Keep pencils, pens, crayons and markers away from books
- ◊ Turn pages carefully, starting with the top right corner
- ◊ Hold books gently
- ◊ Use a bookmark

Thank you for teaching your child that books are special!

Tammy Michels
Library Specialist at Lakewood School

April is Distracted Driving Awareness Month

In order to help save lives and educate the public about the dangers of distracted driving, especially young drivers, Sunnyvale DPS will be working in conjunction with the California Office of Traffic Safety (OTS) and the California Highway Patrol on increased education and enforcement efforts for National Distracted Driving Awareness Month (April). Sunnyvale DPS will also participate in California Teen Safe Driving Week, which occurs during the first week of April.

April 1 and April 15 have been earmarked for special statewide high visibility enforcement days for all law enforcement agencies that are participating in the national traffic safety campaign.

Residents are encouraged to abide by the laws regulating the use of electronic communication devices while driving, which will help make our roadways safer for autos, bicyclists, and pedestrians. ◆

It can happen to anyone…

What's worse (for you) is that you've stolen items with serial numbers that are easily traceable. You have also left your fingerprints behind. Sooner or later, you're going to get caught.

It would be a good idea if you turned yourself (or yourselves) in. If you want to do so, the phone number of the Sunnyvale Department of Public Safety is (408) 730-7100.

Also, if anyone has any information about this robbery (or any other robbery), please call Sunnyvale DPS. You may give your information anonymously.

So, neighbors, remember to lock your doors, windows and gates. Surveillance cameras don't hurt either. Stay safe ◆
