Greetings neighbors!

The "Hot August Night" That Wasn't

In the last newsletter there was a brief article about the upcoming "Hot August Nights" car show that was scheduled to happen on August 4th. As it turns out, the event didn't happen. The decision to cancel it came after the July edition of the newsletter came out, and there wasn't a good way to let the neighborhood know it had been called off. I'm sorry for the confusion that resulted.

The Hot August Nights event is a complicated one to put on. A number of different factors have to come together properly for it to take place. First of all, permission needs to be obtained from the manager of the Lakewood Shopping Center in order to use its parking lot. Next, a city permit must be obtained several weeks in advance. Next someone has to arrange for a band and a stage and sound system in order to have music. Someone has to make sure there is electricity available to power the sound system. Someone has to make sure the LVNA is protected by event insurance. Someone has to arrange for traffic barricades to mark off the parts of the shopping center parking lot that will be used. Someone has to arrange for a porta-potty to satisfy the city's large event permitting requirements. Someone has to arrange for tables and chairs for the kid crafts area. Someone has to go call on all of the vendors in the shopping center to make sure they know what to expect, and to give them a chance to participate with coupons, etc. Someone has to put together "goodie-bag" (Continued on Page 2)

Dumpster Day Success!

-Fred Fowler

We had another successful Dumpster Day. Once again more than 50 dumpster loads were taken out of the neighborhood.

The Goodwill donation drive was a success as well. We came just a few pounds short of beating our total from last year. Back in 2014 we donated just a hair over 8 tons of usable goods. This year the total came in at just a hair under 8 tons. We'll have to do better next year.

Goodwill has written us a check for $2652.26 to thank us for the donations. That money will fill up the LVNA bank account once more. $2,652.26 is more money than we spend printing the newsletter for a whole year. We'll have to figure out a good way to use this cash.

Thanks again to all of the volunteers who make Dumpster Day possible. And special thanks to Skip Gottschalk who once again did a wonderful job of coordinating everything. ◆

Why the Newsletter is a Little Late!

-Phyllis Fowler

Recently, I have been working 10 hour days. Including this Thursday, when I normally take off to write and print the newsletter. Friday evening on the 7th, I finished the writing at 10:45pm. When I started the printing at 7:00am on Saturday, I had several paper jams. Unfortunately, when I cleared the last jam, something broke. Fortunately, Fred was able to take apart the printer and fixed it after 4 1/2 hours. (He fixed the streaking problem as well) I am so lucky to have such a hardworking husband. His effort saved the LVNA a repair bill of over $250.00!

Thank You Fred! ◆

thank-you gifts for the classic car owners. Someone has to contact and coordinate with the SARES Amateur Radio people in order to provide a security patrol. On the day of the event, someone has to set up the parking barricades, coordinate the setup of the stage, setup the special trash containers, cleanup and break down after the event is over, and deal with any complications that come up while the event is underway.

If that isn't enough, someone has to contact car clubs and classic car owners to let them know the event is taking place and they are invited to participate.

Last year the LVNA board and some volunteers figured out how to divide up some of the work and get it done. Wendy Stanley and Judy Fernandez put the kid crafts area together. Our LVNA treasurer Dess Tamez got the tables and chairs, 2Nd Vice President Pat Muniz got a donation of 100 blue tote bags to hold "goodie-bag" things.

There were lots of other things to do, of course. I got permission from Stan Yee to use the shopping center parking lot. I got the city permit. I booked the band, arranged the stage and got a donation from Specialty Solid Waste and Recycling to pay for it. I arranged with the Shell station to use their electric outlets. I got the traffic barricades and the porta-potty. I called on the shopping center vendors and got some of them to give us coupons. Phyllis and I stuffed all of the "goodie-bags". I contacted SARES and got them to participate. I set up the parking barricades on the day of the event (with the help of Dawn Haddaway's son.) I coordinated the setup and breakdown of the stage and the cleanup of the area. During the event itself I had to deal with two disputes, one involving a shopping center merchant and the other involving some of the performers who didn't want to leave the stage.

This year I told the LVNA board in March that if we wanted to do the Hot August Nights event again some other people would have to step up and take on more of the workload. Last year I had the time to spend on the project, but this year things were far busier for me. I just didn't have the capacity to do it all again.

After considering what I had to say, the board voted to hold the event and find volunteers to handle the tasks I had taken care of the year before. We found some people (who will not be named here) who said they would take on some of the specific challenges and get them taken care of. (Continued on page 5)

A man drove his vehicle through the crossing guard arms and his vehicle got stuck on the railroad tracks. San Mateo County Sheriff's Deputies were on a traffic stop in the area and pulled the man from the car just before an approaching train collided with the car.

The investigation revealed the driver of the vehicle was Driving Under the Influence and had been involved in a hit-and-run collision prior to driving through the railroad crossing guard arms. He was transported to a hospital for treatment.

West Nile Virus in our Area

-Phyllis Fowler

Last month Fred reported in The Villager that we found a dead raven in our front yard. It looks like it was a warning.

In July, the Santa Clara County Vector Control District (SCCVCD) confirmed that adult mosquitoes were collected from the surrounding areas tested positive with West Nile Virus (WNV). This area included Santa Clara, San Jose and part of Sunnyvale. The zip codes included: 94089, 95002 & 95054. The SCCVCD fogged the areas from July 29th and ending that night.

The WNV infection is transmitted by mosquito bites and does not cause symptoms in most people. However, in some individuals it can cause fever, headache, body aches, and in severe cases, significant neurological damage or death. Adults older than 50 years old and individuals with chronic medical conditions are the most at risk for serious complications.

Since the arrival of West Nile Virus in 2003, 4,800 people across California have contracted the disease, 177 of those cases were fatal.

Residents can take practical steps by eliminating any standing water around your home.

Tips for preventing mosquitoes can be found at : \http://t.co/cmFM9xyc6e

Contact the Vector Control District if you are being bothered by mosquitoes or know of a potential mosquito-breeding source. For free assistance with mosquito control, WNV, or other vectors, contact the District office by call (408) 918-4770 or fill out a service request online at SCCvector.org. ◆

President's Column

In addition, there was a volunteer who committed to take on the task of coordinating with Goodwill and the Sunnyvale School District to have them participate in Dumpster Day again. Another person began to work on the task of getting us insurance coverage for Dumpster Day, Hot August Nights and the Holiday Parade.

As time passed, our volunteers became busy with their own work and let their LVNA tasks slip. I ended up doing the coordinating with Goodwill and the school district for Dumpster Day, and I ended up having to arrange the necessary event insurance. I was busy, too, and I didn't have time to coach the volunteers about fulfilling their commitments – I just did the tasks myself in order to get them done.

The last newsletter was put together at the end of June, before the real state of things for Hot August Nights became apparent. I was focused on getting Dumpster Day out of the way, and it wasn't until after Dumpster Day had passed that I realized how little had been done to prepare for Hot August Nights. If it was going to happen, I would have to once again do all of the tasks I had done last year, plus a few more. In addition, I would have to do all of that work in just a few days. There was no way it could work.

I'm not blaming anyone. People have lives and their own priorities to deal with. Every hour someone volunteers for the LVNA is a gift to all of us.

For events like Hot August Nights, there has to be someone who says "I will do whatever it takes to make this happen". Someone has to be willing to step in and take care of things when no one else will.

That's what I did last year, and the event was a great success. This year I am breaking under the strain. I couldn't be the one with unlimited responsibility this time. The event didn't happen as a result.

Some people have expressed disappointment that Hot August Nights was canceled, and want to know if it will be rescheduled. My answer to them is "of course it can be rescheduled. I can show you exactly what you need to do to organize it."

We'll see if anyone else is willing to make an unlimited commitment. All someone has to do is say "I will do whatever it takes to make this happen."

Will you? ◆
