President's Column

-Phyllis Fowler

Greetings Neighbors!

On September 17th we will have the LVNA picnic. As in previous years we will provide the hot dogs, burgers, drinks and the paper products.

We are asking neighbors to either bring a side dish, salad, or a dessert to share. (Bring enough for 10 people) Dan Bailor got Walmart to donate water and paper plates and I a cake and macaroni salad have been pledged by neighbors! We will need volunteers to help set up and clean up. If you would like to volunteer, please email me at sunnyphyl@gmail.com or call me at (408)505-2748. (evenings only)

We will have raffle prizes, carnival games, piñata and face painting.

Also, we still do not have anyone to volunteer to chair the LVNA Holiday parade. In the old days, it was a simple thing to schedule participants and get the proper okay from the city. Now it requires a permit from the city, insurance, renting porta potties and even permission from the county. All of which are time consuming and expensive.

Last year Pat Fletcher did an amazing job, but it was daunting! Unless someone else steps forward by October 1st, we will not have the parade.

Hope to see a lot of new faces at the picnic. ◆

Happy 93rd Birthday Wishes to Tony Katsarelis

Hello, my name is Messina Katsarelis Cumberland. I grew up at 1133 Havenwood Avenue in Sunnyvale – Fairwood Side of the Lakewood Villages. We moved into the home in 1963. My Mom and Dad raised 6 children in this house. I was hoping you can put a HAPPY 93rd BIRTHDAY WISHES to my father, Manuel (Tony) Katsarelis, Sr on 9/26/2016, He still resides at the address. I guess he might be one of your oldest, longest resident in the Village.

He retired from Moffett Field in June of 1963 and then he went to work at Lockheed. He eventually went to work in the private sector (Continued on page 4)

Solar Training Opportunity
Workshop on How to Install PV Systems

When: Sunday, September 25th
Time: 1:00 PM - 4:00 PM
Where: Sunnyvale Heritage Park Museum
570 E. Remington Drive, Sunnyvale
Cost: Free

Join with others who are interested in helping save the environment one rooftop at a time. This free, 3-hr. training workshop will teach you the basics of rooftop solar energy and insights on how to install rooftop photovoltaic (PV) energy systems.

The workshop is offered by SunWork (SunWork.org), a Bay-Area nonprofit that installs rooftop PV systems on low-energy-footprint homes. We also do installations for other nonprofits, such as schools and churches. Our mission is to make solar energy more available and affordable to these markets which are often overlooked by for-profit installers.

SunWork is more affordable because of its cadre of trained volunteers who help install rooftop systems under the direction of our professional Project Leads. Once volunteers take the 3-hr. training, they're eligible to participate in SunWork's installations and get hands-on experience. No prior experience is needed.

This training session at the Sunnyvale Heritage Park Museum will be especially interesting since SunWork installed a solar system at the museum earlier this year -- participants will get a tour to see what a working 20.5 kW system looks like.

The workshop is free, but registration is required. To register or for more information, visit sunwork.org/volunteertrainings or call 408-246-8478. ◆

Letter to the Editor Regarding Street Lights

I was in Dick`s market and a couple from Greenlake Drive (I knew them) approached me and requested to send a message thru LVNA newsletter.

A Lamp post on Greenlake Drive was busted, so they called the City and left a voice mail. The City called them back after 2 days and told them to take note of the lamppost number that is imprinted in the metal post itself. So they had to go back and write all the numbers.

I am not sure what number they called to get help. However, most people don't know that I believe it is our own duty/part to call the City when a light is out. The City does not inspect the lampposts at night.

This is what I got from the City:

The City of Sunnyvale maintains over 9,000 street lights illuminating the City streets after dark. Almost 15 percent of these lights are new Light Emitting Diode (LED) lamps. The City has begun replacing the traditional low pressure sodium lamps (LPS) with the LED lights. The LEDs provide a softer, more even, illumination with truer color. LEDs are primarily installed along the busier streets, where there was significant saving by replacing higher wattage lights. LEDs are also being considered to replace the 70-watt LPS lights currently serving most residential areas.

Public Works staff performs periodic night time surveys of street lights on the City's major streets, inspecting and repairing any street light outages discovered. On neighborhood streets, the City relies on residents to report street light outages.

About 10 percent of street lights in Sunnyvale are owned and maintained by PG&E. These are usually identified as street lights mounted on wooden poles. PG&E also supplies power directly to some City owned lights. The City is not authorized to make repairs to PG&E street lights or the supply lines that provide electricity to City owned lights. City staff reports these issues to PG&E.

To report street lights that are out, please call 408-730-7415 with the pole number, nearest address, your name and daytime telephone number. This is the same number to call to report pot holes and problems with street trees.

In Sunnyvale. He didn't retire until he was 75.

My Mom was very active in the LVRA – back in the day. She used to organize the "Dime a Dip" dinner up in the Lakewood shopping center, pancake breakfasts, Frontier Days, etc.

My father helped build the volleyball courts that the Fair-wood church. All of us kids, attended Fairwood, Bayside, Madrone, and Benner and of course all of us graduated from Sunnyvale High School.

Thank you! ◆

State of the Urban Forest – A Look at Sunnyvale's Trees

When: Saturday September 24
Time: 3 p.m.
Where: Sunnyvale Public Library
665 W. Olive Ave
Cost: FREE

Leonard Dunn
Urban Landscape Manager
Street Tree Services
Parks Division of Sunnyvale

Leonard Dunn and the Sunnyvale Urban Forest Advocates invite you to come and learn about the state of the urban forest in Sunnyvale.

Maybe you've wondered about the trees in Sunnyvale. For example, how many trees do we have altogether in the city? How many street trees are there? What is the overall canopy cover in the city? Is it increasing or decreasing? What types of trees are being planted? Are we changing from the trees that were planted 60 years ago? Where is the oldest tree in the city? How do the trees cope with the drought? Does urban forest just mean trees?

These and many other questions will be answered by Leonard Dunn. He will outline the study which was done 2008/2009 of the urban forest in Sunnyvale which resulted in the Urban Forest Management Plan. Many of the above questions are answered in this plan but suggestions were also made as to how to improve the urban forest. Come and learn what you can do to help the urban forest in Sunnyvale!

SUFA has also invited the candidates running for City Council in November to speak on their platform for the urban forest. They will be given equal time to present their ideas and then the audience will be allowed time to ask questions of the candidates.

Student Arrested For Threats and Hate Crimes

Over the Labor Day weekend, Fremont Union High School District administrators were notified by a number of students and families about anonymous threats posted to social media sites. The messages referenced potential violence against a specific group of Fremont students that would take place on September 6th.

Upon learning of these online threats, FUHSD staff was immediately in contact with local law enforcement from Sunnyvale Public Safety. The school district and SPS worked closely together and have taken all necessary precautions to ensure the security of our schools.

SPS immediately assigned detectives to the case. The investigation led to the arrest of a 17 year old Fremont high School student for criminal threats and hate crime related to the social media threats against the Fremont students. Investigators believe the suspect was acting alone and there is no current danger to students and staff. SPS increased security at the school to ensure the safety of the students.

The minor was booked into Juvenile Hall. ◆
