Sunnyvale City Candidate Forum 2016

When: October 12th
Time: 7:00 – 9:00pm
Where: LinkedIn Building
755 North Mathilda, in the Muir room

On Wednesday, October 12th we will be holding our City Council Candidate forum. The forum is sponsored by the LVNA and SNAIL neighborhoods. LinkedIn has kindly offered there facility at 755 North Mathilda Ave for the forum.

City council races are very important to our everyday lives, even more than state or national elections. It is important to have a say in how our city is run. Who we elect to the council effects neighborhood and business zoning, how and what impact on traffic. Services such as: police & fire, garbage, sewer, water, street maintenance and sweeping.

Another reason local elections are important is to help decide our local laws. When we elect officials, we are choosing people we believe will represent our values and interests.

If you don't vote, don't complain! I have heard from many people who say their vote doesn't count or that nothing changes. Change only happens when you get involved and vote. (Continued on page 2)

When it comes to city elections, your vote counts for more than you think! In Sunnyvale, we once had a city council seat that was won by about 10 votes. It is important to know who to vote for. That is why we have candidate forums.

I will be the moderator and I would like to take the time to get some good questions prepared for our candidates. Because we have all 10 candidates there, we will need to limit the questions and there may not be enough time to take question from the audience.

Do you have questions for our Candidates? Do you have concerns about services in Sunnyvale? This is your chance! If you have questions, email them to me at: sunnyphyl@gmail.com or drop them off at:
921 Lakebird Dr. Sunnyvale, CA 94089

I will try to get as many of them answered as time permits. ◆

Voter Registration in Santa Clara County

Did you know the last day to register is October 24th? Currently Santa Clara County was over 800,000 voters registered and 580,000 are absentee ballots. Absentee ballots have already been mailed to the military and voters who reside outside of California. (College students, etc.)

I looked on the Voter Registrar's website and saw that my absentee ballot will be mailed on October 11th. So if you are registered "absentee", you will get your ballot starting next week.

I had fun poking around the SCC Voter website and I found you can download the Sample Ballot & Voter Information Pamphlet from the website: www.sccgov.org

Paper registration forms are available at the Registrar of Voters' Office, U.S. Post Offices, Public Libraries, the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV), City Hall and other government offices.

City of Sunnyvale Expanded Smoking Ordinance Effective Oct. 1st

The City of Sunnyvale has updated its smoking law to provide additional protection from the harmful effects of secondhand smoke by expanding no smoking areas.

The new ordinance goes into effect October 1, 2016 and prohibits smoking:
- in all outdoor dining areas, anywhere food or drink is consumed;
- within 25 feet of building doors and windows;
- within 25 feet of service areas such as transit stops;
- at public events such as farmers' markets;
- on South Murphy Avenue between Washington Avenue and Evelyn Avenue; and
- in all public parks, including golf courses.

The ordinance also expands the smoking prohibition to multi-family housing properties with two or more units including apartments, condominiums and townhomes; multifamily no-smoking areas now include:
- multi-family housing common areas (indoors and outdoors);
- within 25 feet of multi-family housing doors and windows; and
- inside units, including shared balconies and patios.

Smoking remains the leading cause of preventable death in the United States and exposure to secondhand smoke is responsible for an estimated 41,000 heart-disease related and lung cancer deaths each year. According to the Centers for Disease Control, the only way to fully protect nonsmokers is to eliminate smoking in all homes, worksites and public places.

The City is committed to creating a healthier community for all residents and visitors, and Sunnyvale joins more than 100 California municipalities that require smoke-free outdoor areas and nearly 40 communities that require smoke-free multi-family housing within some or all units. An online survey was conducted by the City at OpenCityHall.inSunnyvale.com, nearly 90 percent of respondents favored outdoor dining and around business entryways as smoke-free areas. The smoke-free ordinance updates also will raise the City's grade from a "D" to a "B" in the American Lung Association's State of Tobacco Control Report. To help educate the community about the updated law, businesses and multi-family housing are required to post "no smoking" signs. A limited number of signs are available from the City by calling 408-730-7610 or emailing np@sunnyvale.ca.gov.
For more information about the law, visit Smoking.inSunnyvale.com.

Animal Assisted Happiness

Animal Assisted Happiness (AAH) was founded at the home of Peter Higa and Vicki Amon-Higa in January 2009 as a place for children with special needs to interact with animals and find happiness. It began with Vicki and Peter's barnyard animals. "We began by the inspiration of our mini horse, Lollipop, going to see Riley Church who could no longer leave her home given a battle with cancer." Peter said. Lollipop went into Riley's living room and spent 1 ½ hours giving her love – the inspiration for AAH.

What began by creating our first smile for Riley has grown to have over 29,173 smiles for kids with needs with over 1,399 explicit visits as of September 2016. Our registered volunteers now number over 1,170 who have donated more than 13,311 hours to help us create these smiles. We now have three programs: our AAH Mobile Barnyard Friends which visits more than 50 schools/programs/hospitals and events for kids with special needs, our AAH Barnyard visits at the AAH Happy Farm located in Sunnyvale where families can visit with their children to "experience a smile only animals can bring: and our new program of Vocational Education for kids with Special Needs to learn and contribute to our AAH Happy Farm.

Our AAH Happy Farm was built in the fall of 2015 with the help of 300 AAH Volunteers who donated over 200 hours over five weekends. More information can be found at:
