- Lakewood Park Tree Walk -

Tree #2 (Italian Stone Pine)

In April, we highlighted Tree #1, the London Plane tree. The second tree on SUFA (Sunnyvale Urban Forest Advocates) Lakewood Park Treek Walk is the Italian Stone Pine.

For Tree #1, we stood at the north side of the park building and looked east, towards the playground. From this same spot, we can now look north towards Tree #2, the Italian Stone Pine, Latin name pinus pinea. The tree was native to parts of North Africa during the prehistoric times, when these areas had a more humid climate. Today, its range is the Mediterranean, although it can also be found in places like the Canary Islands and New South Wales. It is also common in California and can be found in places as different as Hollywood, Marina del Rey, and Sylmar. In Rome, the Via Appia and other historic Roman roads are lined with stone pine. Considered an ornamental tree during the Ottoman period, the trees were planted in Istanbul along the Bosphorus strait.

The Italian Stone Pine has a large umbrella-like canopy, which gives it the nickname of "umbrella pine". Its bark is thick, with a reddish-brown color, and resembles vertical plates, and it can reach up to 80 feet in height when fully mature. The tree grows rapidly in its early years, growing to 10-15 feet in height in the first five years of its life. After that, the growth rate slows to roughly 1 foot per year. The trees are drought tolerant, although the growth will slow (particularly for younger trees) during prolonged drought. Mature Italian Stone Pines require little maintenance, water, or fertilizer to survive. It is susceptible to ice damage, and the needles will turn brown in colder weather.

The Italian Stone Pine's three-year maturation rate for its cones is the longest maturation of all pines. The edible seeds (pine nuts) are about 0.75 inches in length. Seeds rely on animals or humans to disperse.

- Meet Your Board Member -

Linh Ly

Linh is the new treasurer of the Lakewood Village Neighborhood Association.

Question: Tell me a bit about yourself and your family.

Linh: I am a Jersey transplant, but have settled here in CA for almost 20 years. I live in a multi-generational household with my parents and brother.

Question: When did you move to the neighborhood?

Linh: I moved to Lakewood in 2011, so 11 years ago.

Question: Which side (Fairwood or Lakewood) do you live on?

Linh: Fairwood side.

Question: Name one thing you see out of your kitchen window.

Linh: Looking out my kitchen window, I see my side yard which includes my succulent garden with lots of container plants.

Question: Something that is in your front yard?

Linh: There is a loquat tree in my front yard.

Question: A sound you hear frequently in the neighborhood?

Linh: I hear all the birds chirping in the mornings. They are so active.

Question: What is something you like about living in Lakewood/Fairwood? And something that has changed since you moved to the neighborhood?

Linh: I like how close I live to my sister's family, who are also in Lakewood. I have seen more remodels and new constructions, which is lovely to see.

Question: What are your favorite parks/things to do in Sunnyvale and/or the Bay Area?

Linh: I'm a foodie, so I love to try new restaurants and yelp about it, which earned me Elite status. Supporting local small businesses is also a passion of mine. I don't have time to bike, but hope to get back to it more often than I do. There are so many great parks and trails for that around the Bay Area.

Question: Tell me a bit about your hobbies.

Linh: Succulent gardening, foodie, crafts, balloon animals, traveling, volunteering in my community

Question: Any great stories to share about living in the neighborhood?

Linh: I am known for the annual balloon party that I throw on 10/31 for all the neighborhood kids who come around. It has been fun to see how it evolves every year and I love seeing the faces of kids of all ages light up when they see balloons. Last year, some kids and youth even stayed to learn and practice making themselves. It's for everyone, and I really enjoy doing it. Hope it grows and more people have fun with it too. And before you ask - no, I don't do parties. I only do them for my family and the neighborhood, it's a labor of love.

Question: How did you get involved with the LVNA initially?

Linh: My brother in law and sister have encouraged me to be involved for many years, but I have always been too busy. When the positions opened up, I had some time and thought, ok, the time is right to serve and engage other neighbors to make our community, one that we all can be proud of.

Question: Why did you want to be treasurer this year?

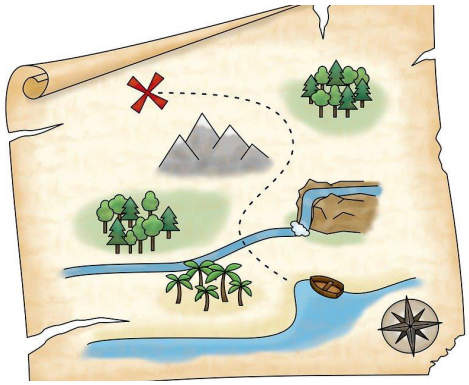

Linh: To be honest, that position was the easiest for me, as I am good with admin and keeping track of such things.

Question: Anything else you want the neighborhood to know about you, LVNA, or our community?

Linh: I want our neighbors to know that LVNA has been part of Sunnyvale for so long, and even though we may have a rich history, this is a new season for new neighbors to get involved and to help create and build the future of Lakewood Village. We can build upon what the previous leaders have set up, and even add more things. I am super excited to get to know more neighbors and to welcome new ones to our community. As diverse as we are, we can each contribute something to improve and beautify and make our neighborhood better. We all live here, so let's make it a special place that we can be proud of. I love gatherings and social events, so this summer is a great time to get out there and get to know each other!

- Neighborhood Scavenger Hunt -

Water Restrictions

With limited rain during this wet season, the drought continues into its third year. The period of January through March was the driest one on record for both Santa Clara County and California. Santa Clara County gets much of its water from the Sierra Nevada, and the annual snowpack measurement on April 1 recorded the fifth lowest amount of snowpack on record.

LVNA gets our water through the City of Sunnyvale's Public Works Department, and our water comes mostly from the Hetch Hetchy Reservoir in Yosemite National Park. The City is effectively the retailer to deliver the water to homes and businesses in our community. The City gets the water from Valley Water, the wholesale water and groundwater management agency that supplies water to much of Santa Clara County.

As a result of the continuing drought, on April 12, the Valley Water Board of Directors voted to include additional water restrictions. New water restrictions are:

1. Watering of lawns and ornamental landscapes in Santa Clara County is limited to no more than twice per week.
2. Watering during the warmest part of the day is prohibited. If you water, please water in the early morning or evening - it's better for the plants as well.

If you notice someone wasting water, you can either talk to them directly or you can report it through the Valley Water website here:
https://www.valleywater.org/droughtsaving-water/report-water-waste

Primary Election on June 7

California's primary election is coming up on June 7. All registered voters will receive their vote-by-mail ballot automatically. Ballots will be mailed on or before May 9, and drop boxes to return your vote-by-mail ballot will be open starting May 10. In-person voting is also available and polls will be open 7:00am to 7:00pm on Election Day. If you need another copy of the Official Voter Information Guide, please call (800) 345-VOTE (8683). This election will cover one congressional office and several state offices.

Congressional offices (two elections for one US Senate seat):

- US Senate special election to fill the vacancy left when Kamala Harris was elected as Vice President of the United States; the winner will serve until the term expires on January 3, 2023 (incumbent is Alex Padilla, who was appointed by Governor Newsom)
- US Senate regular election for a full six-year term for one senator that starts on January 3, 2023

Note that both US Senate elections are for one Senate seat. The special election is for who will hold that seat up until January 3, 2023, and the regular election is for who will hold that seat after January 3, 2023. California's other US Senate seat is currently held by Dianne Feinstein, whose term does not end until on January 2, 2025.

Statewide offices:

- Governor (incumbent is Gavin Newsom)
- Lieutenant Governor (incumbent is Eleni Kounalakis)
- Secretary of State (incumbent is Shirley N. Weber)
- Controller (incumbent is Betty Yee)
- Treasurer (incumbent is Fiona Ma)
- Attorney General (incumbent is Rob Bonta)
- Insurance Commissioner (incumbent is Ricardo Lara)
- Board of Equalization (one election each for Districts 1, 2, 3, and 4)
- Superintendent of Public Instruction (incumbent is Tony Thurmond)
