Santa Clara Development Review Hearing on on 4590 Patrick Henry Drive– November 13

Development on a multi-family residential building at 4590 Patrick Henry Drive is finally underway. While agreeing on the need to build more, high-density housing, Lakewood residents have raised concerns about the impact that the 8-story housing complex will have on our neighborhood. See Page 6 and 7 for more information. The next hearing is November 13 at 4:00pm, in person (1500 Warburton Ave, Santa Clara, CA) and virtual.

LVNA Holiday Parade– December 14

The LVNA Holiday Parade is back! This year, it will be held on Saturday, December 14. The parade will start at Lakewood Park at 11:00am and end at Fairwood Park. The event will include performances by Fremont High School's Firebird Marching Band and the Spirit of Sunnyvale Marching Band! We will have a Specialty Solid Waste Truck, service dogs, classic cars carrying local dignitaries, and a Sunnyvale fire engine carrying Santa! We will be accepting unwrapped toys and gift cards to donate to Sunnyvale Community Services as well.

Thank you to the residents who have reached out to volunteer and help make this event a success! If you would like to join us to help, please email board@lvnasv.org.

LVNA is Officially a Non–Profit Organization!

A reminder that the Lakewood Village Neighborhood Association (LVNA) is now a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization! That means you can make tax-deductible donations to support us and programs in our community. Many companies also offer matching programs to double your impact. For more information on making a donation, email treasurer@lvnasv.org.

Thank you to the residents who have reached out to volunteer and help make this event a success! If you would like to join us to help, please email board@lvnasv.org.

WANTED – Sidewalk Complaints!

The LVNA board is looking to compile a list of the worst-maintained parts of Lakewood Village. We want to identify the Top 10 Worst Spots in Lakewood Village. We will share this with the City of Sunnyvale to help them prioritize repairs in our neighborhood. However, we need your help!
Tell us what parts of Lakewood need the most help. These can be sidewalks that need repair, potholes that need fixing, trees that need trimming, cars that were abandoned, and/or houses that have been neglected.

Answers need to be specific (e.g., 123 Sunnyvale Ave). Pictures are good, too. Please send your feedback to board@lvnasv.org.
Bonus points if you also submit your complaint on Access Sunnyvale (https://sunnyvale.dynamics365portals.us/). This will help get our complaints in the City's system. If you do this, please let us know so we can help follow up.

SHS Presentations in November!

The Sunnyvale Heritage Park Museum is offering TWO exciting presentations about Sunnyvale schools in November!

Andy Walczak in Conversation with Wes Morse: Fremont High School 100 – A Local History
Monday, November 4, 7:00-8:30pm
Sunnyvale Heritage Park Museum, 570 E Remington Dr, Sunnyvale, CA 94087
As Assistant Principal at Fremont High School in Sunnyvale, Andy Walczak has an insider perspective on the development of the school. Not only does he work there, but he also graduated from FHS in 1992, having grown up in Sunnyvale.
Andy used his extensive knowledge of the school to write the book (Fremont High School 100: A Local History) about its century-long history which was published just in time for the centennial celebration.

In a conversation with his collaborator Wes Morse, a teacher at Cupertino High School, they will address the history of FHS and its role in the life of the community, as well as offering an insight into the process of writing the book.

A Story of Belonging: Sunnyvale High School
Monday, November 18, 7:00pm
Sunnyvale Heritage Park Museum, 570 E Remington Dr, Sunnyvale, CA 94087

Author Karen V. Hansen, PhD will give insights into this multiracial working-class school in California in conversation with her classmate Robert Handa, reporter at NBC Bay Area News. Opened in 1956, Sunnyvale High School, the second public high school in Sunnyvale, followed a groundbreaking vision during a time of interracial tension in the 1960s and 70s with the desire to achieve collaboration between students and educators, aiming to reduce violence and enrich the curriculum. The inclusion of US Black history and Mexican American literature as well as increasing girls' access to sports engendered pride and persistence in the students.
In Hansen's new book Working-class Kids and Visionary Educators in a Multiracial High School, Hansen lets the students and educators during the 25-year life of the school share their experiences and the impact the school had on their lives.

Recap of Lakewood Village Neighborhood Quarterly Meeting

The last LVNA neighborhood meeting was busy, with three guest speakers: (1) Matt Savage from the County of Santa Clara Department of Public Health's Substance Use Prevention Program, (2) Sunnyvale Department of Public Safety Neighborhood Resource Officer Spencer Chen, and (3) the newly-appointed Sunnyvale City Manager Tim Kirby. Here is a quick recap:

Matt Savage, Santa Clara Department of Public Health's Substance Use Prevention Program

Matt discussed the County program, his work in the community, and increasing concern about emerging products, especially for youth. He shared information about synthetic cannabis, a substance that is nearly identical to traditional cannabis but is sold widely at retailers outside of regulated cannabis dispensaries. It is not FDA-approved, and testing is not required for sale. A recent study found that 11% of high school students have used this product, and another found that it is easily obtained by youth at local retailers.

Matt Savage from the Santa Clara County of Public Health discussing the risks of synthetic cannabis and why it is different from traditional cannabis.

Matt also noted that earlier this year, Public Health staff found synthetic cannabis and other harmful products for sale at multiple retailers in the City of Sunnyvale. Some of these retailers were near schools and residential neighborhoods.

More information can be found at https://tinyurl.com/SCCSubstanceAbuseFlyer

Residents can learn more about synthetic cannabis, and the Substance Use Prevention Policy Program, by visiting https://publichealth.santaclaracounty.gov/health-

Officer Chen, Update on Neighborhood Safety

Officer Chen provided a few quick updates. Sunnyvale Department of Public Safety (DPS) is not actively enforcing against illegal street vendors. A state law several years ago decriminalized street vending, so the City can only regulate these vendors if it is a public safety issue. He also noted that food trucks are permitted by a county department, must have a Sunnyvale business license, and are limited on where they can operate. Permits are not actively enforced, but residents with concerns can submit a request through Access Sunnyvale (https://sunnyvale.dynamics365portals.us/)

DPS runs five shifts across the City. During daytime fully staffed hours, there are 2-3 officers per beat at a time. Officers spend most of their time going from call to call. Sunnyvale has a strong relationship with nearby cities, so they can call on other cities for support if needed.
For non-emergency general questions, call Public Safety at 408-730-7110

Recap of Lakewood Village Neighborhood Quarterly Meeting

Tim Kirby, General City Updates

Tim Kirby has worked at the City of Sunnyvale for 29 years, starting in solid waste management. He reminisced about supporting LVNA Dumpster Days many years ago. After twenty years in the City's Finance Department, he was appointed as City Manager in Sept 2024.

The discussion covered updates on the new Lakewood Library branch, the loss of the Lakewood Pool and the need to provide public swimming pool options for North Sunnyvale residents. Residents also discussed the messy Chinese Hackberry trees in the neighborhood and the options the City is considering. The discussion ended on the Village Center topics, and the limits that state laws have placed on the City in regards to housing and retail.

City Manager Tim Kirby answers a question from the audience at the LVNA October General Meeting

Update on Development at 4590 Patrick Henry Drive

Development of the multi-unit housing complex at 4590 Patrick Henry Drive continued this month with an architectural review Development Review Hearing in Santa Clara on Wednesday, Oct 16.

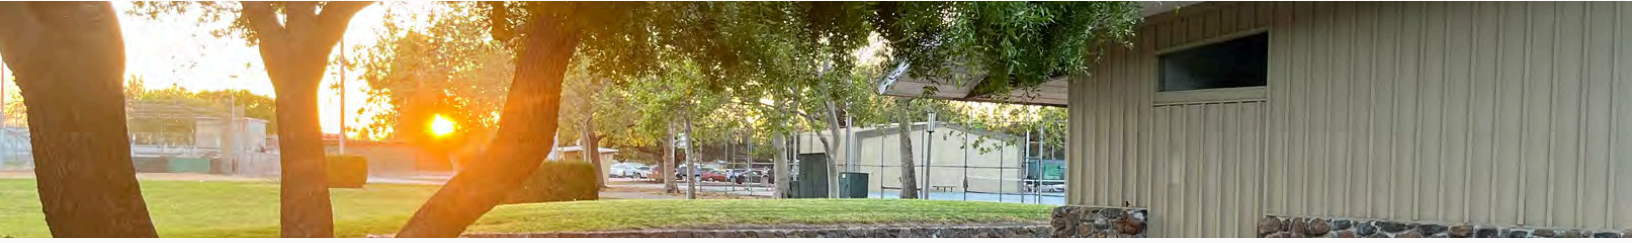

Located just across the aqueduct bridge east of the Calabazas Creek Trail (and in Santa Clara), the housing development will replace the existing one-story light industrial building with an eight story, 284 unit multi-family residential building. This is part of Santa Clara's Patrick Henry Drive Specific Plan (PHDSP). The development brings much-needed housing to the community, including 15% (42) affordable units.

The red box is the location of proposed development. The purple line is the greenbelt connecting to the Calabazas Creek Trail. Note the proximity of the new development to the aqueduct, as well as homes on Manzano Way and Oak Creek Way on the east side of our neighborhood.

While supportive of bringing high density housing to our community, Lakewood residents have raised privacy concerns about the height of the building. The building would be up to 86 feet tall, and there is a question regarding how visible backyards in the Lakewood neighborhood would be from units located at the top of the building. Preliminary drone footage by residents suggests that, from the top of the building, it would be easy to see into backyards on Manzano Way and Oak Creek Way. There would also be reasonable visibility from the building to Fairwood Park and the playgrounds at Fairwood Elementary School.
